TOP COLTON COWSER CARDS TO BUY NOW

Prospecting in baseball is a play where flippers can make money or lose money quickly. However, it is a ton of fun! The Baltimore Orioles are loaded with prospects, and Colton Cowser might just be the one closest to getting called up right now! Although Cowser is not in our nooffseason.com baseball card rankings, doesn't mean you can't make a play and make money on him!

The Orioles are currently sporting the AL's 2nd best record with a very young roster. Cowser is trying to beat down the door to get called up with his play in the minors. He is batting .417 over his last 20 games. He has great discipline at the plate which is evidenced by the fact that he also has a .457 on base percentage. As well as the O's are playing he may not get his opportunity until late summer, but he is a prospect to keep your eyes on!
